2013 AGRICULTURAL WATER QUALITY REGISTRATION NOTICE

The Department of Agriculture, Weights and Measures (AWM) protects and improves water quality by preventing the discharge of pollutants such as pesticides, fertilizers, bacteria and sediment into our waterways. AWM enforces stormwater regulations by conducting inspections at nurseries, greenhouses, cemeteries, golf courses, and pest control businesses within the unincorporated areas of San Diego County.

The County of San Diego Board of Supervisors has established an annual Agricultural Water Quality registration fee of $100 per location for qualifying agricultural businesses that AWM inspects. Your 2013 Agricultural Water Quality registration fee is due and payable upon receipt of this notice. If payment is not received by January 1, 2013, collection costs may result in additional fees. Payment will be credited to any existing delinquent fees first.

Please mail the following to our San Diego Office:

1. Completed Agricultural Water Quality Registration Form (enclosed).
